

Tour: Graffiti Removal Training

Join archaeologist Jewel Touchin and Patricia McCabe of Logan Simpson on a field trip to a Tempe location that has been heavily spray painted and learn what Elephant Snot is and how it can remove graffiti from building structures and archaeological sites. Each participant will be using Elephant Snot to remove graffiti on areas recently tagged. A sign-up form will be sent out for this activity. Please bring drinking water and hat and to wear long pants, long sleeved shirts and close-toed shoes that can get dirty. Please plan on meeting in the hotel lobby at 8:00 am. From there we will travel a short distance in our own vehicles.

Meeting location: meet Sean Hammond at 8:00 am Sunday October 31st in the hotel lobby. From the hotel we will caravan over to the Tempe Hayden Flour Mill graffiti to meet our guides Jewel Touchin and Patricia McCabe.
